

ANATOL KCLASS

4 Cogswell Ave Apt. 1, Cambridge, MA, 02140 | 617-304-1424 | anatol.klass@berkeley.edu

ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

New York, New York

China and the World Program Postdoctoral Fellow

September 2024 to June 2025

- Instructor of record for a seminar on the history of Chinese foreign relations with master's students at Columbia's School of International and Public Affairs in Fall 2024
- Revising my dissertation manuscript for publication as a monograph

HARVARD UNIVERSITY, FAIRBANK CENTER

Cambridge, Massachusetts

Hou Family Foundation Fellow in Taiwan Studies

August 2023 to May 2024

- Inaugural predoctoral fellow in residence at the Fairbank Center's new program for Taiwan Studies
- Completed my dissertation and organized academic programming on Taiwanese history

HARVARD KENNEDY SCHOOL, BELFER CENTER

Cambridge, Massachusetts

Ernest May Fellow in History and Public Policy

August 2022 to May 2023

- Predoctoral fellow in residence at the Harvard Kennedy School's Applied History Project
- In addition to supporting my academic work, the program allowed me to communicate the policy implications of my research to government officials and the general public and participate in Graham Allison's Belfer Center China Working Group

EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY

Berkeley, California

PhD in Modern Chinese History

May 2024

- Dissertation: "Managing the Foreign Affairs of the People: Kuomintang Party School Graduates and the Technocratic Transformation of Chinese Diplomacy, 1930-1971"
- Passed qualifying exam with honors in Spring 2021; committee: Wen-hsin Yeh and Nicolas Tackett (China and Taiwan), Daniel Sargent (Global History), Peter Zinoman (Southeast Asia), and David Grewal (History of International Law)

TSINGHUA UNIVERSITY, SCHWARZMAN COLLEGE

Beijing, CHINA

Master of Global Affairs

July 2018

- Recipient of a Schwarzman Scholars Fellowship
- Completed a thesis on the history of ideological technocratic education in the People's Republic of China, working with Professor Wang Hui

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Cambridge, Massachusetts

AB in History and East Asian Studies, magna cum laude with highest honors

May 2017

- John Harvard Scholar, top ten percent of graduating class; 3.92 GPA
- Secondary Concentration in Government

PEER-REVIEWED PUBLICATIONS

- “Imagining a Non-Aligned Taiwan: The Role of ‘Africa Experts’ in the Republic of China’s West African Charm Offensive, 1960-1963,” in Vivien Chang and Benedito Machava eds. After Bandung: Africa and China in a New Era (forthcoming with University of Michigan Press in 2024).
- “‘China Marching with India’: India’s Cold War Advocacy for the People’s Republic of China at the United Nations,” Cold War History (in 2023 special issue on China and the Cold War), published online on June 25, 2023.
- “The Peking Formula: International Law, the United Nations, and Chinese Sovereignty during the Korean War,” The International History Review Vol. 43, No. 6 (2021).

GRANTS, FELLOWSHIPS & HONORS

- Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program Postdoctoral Fellowship (2024-2025 academic year)
- Harvard Fairbank Center Hou Family Predoctoral Fellow in Taiwan Studies (2023-2024 academic year)
- Harvard Kennedy School Belfer Center’s Ernest May Predoctoral Fellowship in History and Public Policy (2022-23 academic year)
- Berkeley Institute for the Study of Societal Issues Research Grant (Spring 2023)
- Woodrow Wilson Center Chun and Jane Chiu Family Foundation Fellowship in Taiwan Studies (Spring 2022)
- Fulbright IIE Dissertation Research Award for Taiwan (2021-2022 academic year)
- UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation Dissertation Fellowship (2021-2022 academic year)
- Ezra Vogel Memorial Fellowship (Summer 2021)
- Berkeley Empirical and Legal Studies Fellow (2020-2021 academic year)
- Foreign Language and Area Studies fellowship for studying Japanese (2019-2020 academic year)
- Schwarzman College award for outstanding master’s thesis (2018)
- Harvard University’s Thomas Temple Hoopes Prize for outstanding scholarly work or research for senior thesis (2017)
- Harvard History Department Undergraduate Essay Prize (2017)

REVIEWS and PUBLICATIONS for a GENERAL AUDIENCE

- “People’s Diplomacy and the Prospects for Sino-American Exchange in a New Era” in China Books Review (forthcoming September 2024).
- Review of Hao Chen’s “An Alternative Decolonisation” in H-Diplo (published online February 27, 2024).
- Review of Chen-cheng Wang’s The Central Politics School and Local Governance in Nationalist China: Toward a Statecraft Beyond Science in China Quarterly (published online January 12, 2024).

- “Xinjiang’s Last Warlord: Yolbars Khan and the Movement to Build a Uyghur Homeland in Taiwan,” History Today, (December 22, 2023).
- “The Real Risk of Congress’s China Select Committee,” Foreign Policy, March 20, 2023.
- “‘We Are the Ones Who Manage the Affairs of the People: The Kuomintang Party School and its Legacy on both Sides of the Taiwan Strait after 1949,’ Sources and Methods (published by the Wilson Center’s History and Public Policy Program) February 15, 2023.
- “Norma in Kaohsiung,” ChinaFile, July 25, 2022.
- “Diplomatic Epithets,” Los Angeles Review of Books, February 23, 2022.
- “Michael Kovrig, Michael Spavor, and China’s History of Hostage Diplomacy,” SUPChina, July 9, 2020.
- “The US-China Trade Deal in Historical Perspective,” The Washington Post, January 20, 2020.
- “‘First Internal Pacification, Then External Resistance’: Chiang Kai-shek’s Response to the Mukden Incident at Home and Abroad,” Columbia East Asia Review, Volume 9 (Winter, 2016).
- “The Mongolian Incident: Exploring the International Context of Taiwan’s Only Veto in the United Nations Security Council,” Tempus, 15.1 (Spring 2014).

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS and INVITED LECTURES

- Clements Center 2024 Summer Seminar in History and Statecraft (participant).
- Society for the History of American Foreign Relations (SHAFR) Annual Conference (June 14, 2024) Organizer and Panelist for “Cold War Politics between the US, China, and the Korean Peninsula”.
- Invited Lecture at Ca’ Foscari and Zhejiang University Joint Conference on the Guomindang at 100 (June 7, 2024): “Foreign Affairs for the Masses: The Party School Diplomacy Department and Guomindang State-Building”.
- Association for Asian Studies Annual Conference (March 2024)—Organizer and Panelist for “Classification of Overseas Chinese: Negotiating the Legal, Social, and Political Status of Chinese Diaspora Communities from the Late Qing to the Cold War”.
- Invited Lecture at Tufts Fletcher School: “South Asia, China, and the Cold War” (October 23, 2023)
- Harvard Kennedy School International Security Seminar (September 2023)—“China Marching with India: Sino-India Cooperation over United Nations Affairs in the early Cold War”.
- North American Taiwan Studies Association (NATSA) Annual Conference (June 2023)—Presenting Paper, “Imagining a Non-Aligned Taiwan: Asia-Africa Experts in Early Cold War Taiwan”.
- Yale Jackson School of Global Affairs conference on Africa and China after Bandung (April 2023)—Panelist for “Taiwan and the Limits of Self-Determination”.
- Association for Asian Studies Annual Conference (March 2023)—Organizer and Panelist for “Beyond the Treaties: New Perspectives on Republican Foreign Affairs”.

- Harvard Belfer Center International Security Program Seminar presentation (February 2023)—“The Party School: Kuomintang Central Political Institute Graduates in Taiwan and China”.
- Harvard-MIT-BU Chinese Politics Research Workshop presentation (February 2023)—“Managing the Foreign Affairs of the People: Kuomintang Party School Graduates and the Transformation of Chinese Diplomacy”.
- Harvard Kennedy School Applied History Working Group presentation (January 2023)—“The Diplomacy Department of the Kuomintang Central Political Institute”.
- Invited lecture at National Chengchi University history department (February 2022)—“Building the National Body: Physical Education and Military Discipline at the Kuomintang Party School”.
- Li Ka-shing Summer 2020 Workshop on Digital Methodologies for Historical Chinese Studies (participant).
- Li Ka-shing Summer 2019 Workshop on Classical Chinese Bibliography (presenter).
- Columbia East Asian Graduate Conference (February 2016)--Panelist on “Fraught straits: China and Taiwan in the Post-war International Order”.

TEACHING

- Fall 2024—Instructor of Record for “Historical Perspectives on Chinese Foreign Policy”; developed the curriculum for a graduate seminar at Columbia University’s School of International and Public Affairs;
- Spring 2021—Graduate Student Reader for “Vietnam at War” with Professor Peter Zinoman; graded exams, research papers, and weekly writing assignments for sixty students; helped students develop their research project ideas through weekly office hours; planned exams and assignments with professor based on course content
- Fall 2020—Graduate Student Instructor for “Global History” with Professors Daniel Sargent and Nicolas Tackett; developed curricula for two weekly sections, each consisting of twenty undergraduate students and lasting for two hours; graded exams and final papers for forty students; helped students develop and revise their final project topics through weekly meetings in office hours
- Fall 2019—Graduate Student Instructor for “Ancient Chinese History” with Professor Michael Nylan; developed curricula for two weekly sections, each consisting of twenty undergraduate students and lasting for two hours; graded exams and final papers for forty students; helped students develop and revise their final project topics through weekly meetings in office hours

LANGUAGES: Fluent in Mandarin Chinese (reading, speaking, and writing) and Ancient Greek; basic literacy in Classical Chinese, Japanese, and French